Challenges Faced by Candidates:

The 2024 Surekey Mock Examinations presented several challenges for candidates. This report highlights the common difficulties faced by the pupils and offers advice to teachers to enhance future instruction and assessment.

1. Grammar and sentence structure: Many students struggled with basic grammar rules, such as subject-verb agreement, tense consistency and sentence fragmentation.
2. Vocabulary limitations: Many struggled to express themselves effectively due to limited vocabulary, leading to a lack of clarity and coherence in their writing.
3. Reading comprehension: Some pupils faced difficulties in understanding and interpreting texts, leading to inaccurate answers and poor expression of ideas.
4. Writing organization: Candidates failed to structure their writing logically (See picture composition); and there were several cases of unnecessary joining and splitting of words, plus poor cancellation of unwanted work.

Advice to teachers:

- a) Follow the curriculum.
- b) Adopt learner-centered methods and use a variety of resources.
- c) Develop language competences effectively during lessons.
- d) Relate the topic to practical situations.
- e) Do not stop at teaching P7 work; revise topics from previous classes.
- f) Emphasize grammar rules and sentence structure.
- g) Teach every aspect of a word, e.g. meaning, opposite, synonym, to enhance pupils' lexical range.
- h) Teach effective reading techniques, e.g. scanning or close reading, and give plenty of practice to improve comprehension.
- i) Provide extra support for struggling pupils through remedial work

GENERAL COMMENTS

Surekey Examinations Board appreciates teachers in their efforts to prepare learners for PLE MOCK every year. Many of them cover the contents of the syllabuses in time. However, others still do not prepare their learners adequately.

In order to prepare learners for improved performance, the following recommendations have been made to teachers, Surekey Examiners and Subject Specialists:

a) Teachers should:

- (i) use learner-centred methods of teaching to enable active learner participation. Some of these methods include: group work, projects, demonstrations, role plays, dramatization, excursions, and others. These methods help learners to understand concepts they are taught easily and also enable them to put what they learn into practice.
- (ii) follow the curriculum and use textbooks approved by NCDC while preparing their schemes of work and lesson plans. This will help them to know the right content for a specific class and give learners the necessary information.
- (iii) embrace the use of technology during teaching so as to diversify and enhance learning.
- (iv) develop language competences in the learners across all subjects. They should encourage them to read and write storybooks, participate in debates, conduct spelling games and participate in handwriting competitions.
- (v) use locally available materials as much as possible to enable learners relate their classroom experiences to real life.
- (vii) give learners opportunity to practice answering more questions involving 'why', and 'how' during teaching.
- (viii) relate the primary seven class contents to topics taught in previous classes for better understanding.

b) Education officers should:

- (i) address the knowledge gaps in teachers by regularly organizing continuous professional development sessions.

c) School Management Committees (SMC)

SMCs should ensure availability and effective use of formal and informal teaching/learning materials. Some of the materials in these subjects include;

Mathematics

- Assorted textbooks recommended and approved textbooks by MoES and NCDC.
- The curriculum for each class
