ABOUT THE BOOK

The present series covers all areas of Islamic studies: tafseer, hadeeth, tawheed, fiqh, seerah, and general etiquette relating to different areas and situations. Every effort has been made to ensure that the material presented in the series is authentic, and most of the terms are presented in their original Arabic script, along with the transliteration and the translation of their meanings. This also applies to supplications which have to be memorised in their Arabic version. The aim here is to help the reader read the original text and understand its meaning. Each lesson is followed by exercises covering questions about the lesson.

One striking feature in the series is the colourful artwork used in it that certainly appeals to children. This is certainly bound to attract the young readers' attention, stimulate them, amuse them as well as educate them.

The series aims to acquaint the student with the teachings of Islam in every aspect: beliefs, practices and moral conduct. The series, with its unique features, certainly fills a gap in this area which has long been partially neglected.

Publisher's Note

All praise belongs to Allah; we praise Him and seek His help and forgiveness. We seek refuge in Allah from the evil of our own selves and from our sinful deeds. Whomever Allah guides, there is none to misguide him, and whomever He leads astray, none can guide him. We bear witness that there is no god worthy of worship except Allah, alone, and we bear witness that Muhammad is His servant and Messenger. We pray to Allah the Almighty to bestow His peace and blessings upon Prophet Muhammad, upon his good and pure family, as well as upon all the noble companions and those who follow them in righteousness until the Day of Judgement.

Given the dire need for Islamic studies material in schools incorporating the subject in English, Darussalam has endeavoured to publish an Islamic Studies series covering all the grades, from grade one through grade twelve.

The series will cover all areas of Islamic studies: tafseer, hadeeth, tawheed, fiqh, seerah, and general etiquette relating to different areas and situations. Given the importance of authentic Islamic knowledge, every effort has been made to ensure that the material presented in the series is authentic. Also, given the importance of Arabic Islamic terms, most of the terms are presented in their original Arabic script, along with the transliteration and the translation of their meanings. This also applies to supplications which have to be memorised in their Arabic from. The aim here is to help the reader read the original text and understand its meaning. Each lesson is followed by exercises covering questions about the lesson.

One striking feature in the series is the colourful artwork used in it that certainly appeals to children. This is certainly bound to attract the young readers' attention, stimulate them, amuse them as well as educate them.

Publisher's Note

The series aims to acquaint the student with the teachings of Islam in every aspect: beliefs, practices and moral conduct. The series, with its unique features, certainly fills a gap in this area which has long been partially neglected.

The present breathtaking work was initiated by an expert in the field of education, Maulvi Abdul Aziz, MA. English literature, who held different posts in the field including that of Senior Administrative Officer in the Department of Private Education, Ministry of Education, Dubai, UAE, from 1982 to 2002.

The current project also owes its existence in its present form to a number of people who made informative suggestions, particularly Al-Arabee Ben Razzouq, College of Languages and Translation, Imam Muhammad ibn Saud University, Riyadh, who undertook the painstaking task of checking the authenticity of the material presented in the series, proofreading the text as well as adding references to certain quotations from the Qur'an and the hadeeth. Special thanks also go to Sheikh Abdul-Qawiy Luqman, Al-Madeenah University graduate, for his interesting suggestions and to Mr. Zulfiqar Mahmood who conscientiously applied his expertise in the field of graphic design to produce the series in a superb shape.

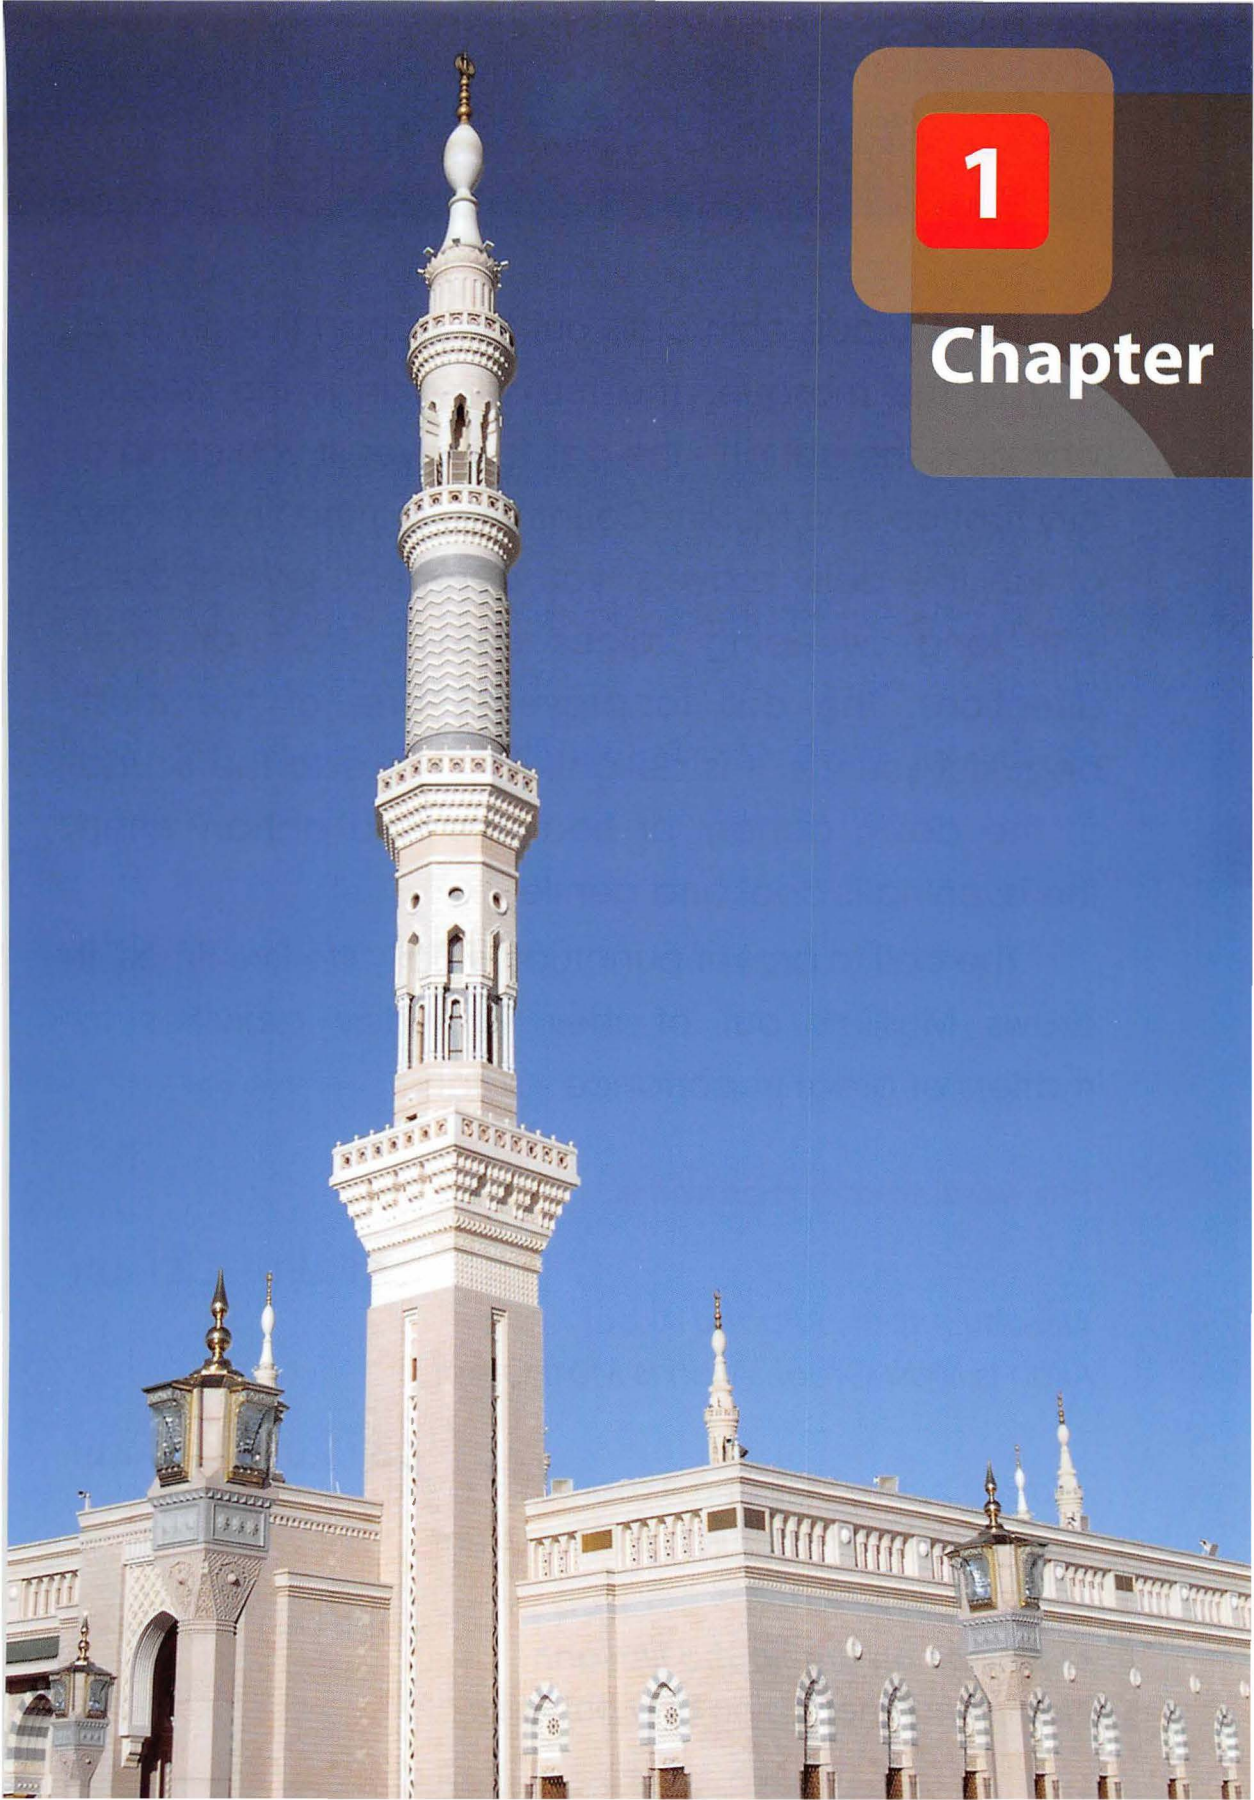

We pray to Almighty Allah to reward our endeavours and to make the present series abundantly beneficial to students in all stages of education as well as to any one who reads them.

The Call to Prayer اَلْأَذَان

The Mu'adh-dhin calls out the adhan five times a day at the mosque. The mu'adh-dhin is the person who calls the adhan - the call to prayer. If you climb a city rooftop in a Muslim Country during the time of any of the five daily prayers, you can hear several calls, with long sweeping voices coming from different directions. The call to prayer is one of the most beautiful sounds. It is delightful to wake to the sound of the dawn adhan, or hear the Isha adhan when the evening is cool and gentle.

The call to prayer punctuates daily life five times. It draws Muslims out of their everyday activities to matters of great importance - salah.

The wording of the adhan is:

اَللّٰهُ أَكْبَـر اَللّٰهُ أَكْبَـر

Allaahu Akbar, Allaahu Akbar

Allah is Most Great, Allah is Most Great

اَللّٰهُ أَكْبَـر اَللّٰهُ أَكْبَـر

Allaahu Akbar, Allaahu Akbar

Allah is Most Great, Allah is Most Great

أَشْهَدُ أَنْ لاَ إِلٰهَ إِلاَّ اللّٰه

ash-hadu an laa-ilaaha illallaah

I testify that there is no god but Allah

أَشْهَدُ أَنْ لَا إِلٰهَ إِلَّا اللّٰه

ash-hadu an laa-ilaaha illallaah

I testify that there is no god but Allah

أَشْهَدُ أَنَّ مُحَمَّدًا رَسُولُ اللّٰه

ash-hadu anna muhammadar-rasoolullaah

I testify that Muhammad is the Messenger of Allah

أَشْهَدُ أَنَّ مُحَمَّدًا رَسُولُ اللّٰه

ash-hadu anna muhammadar-rasoolullaah

I testify that Muhammad is the Messenger of Allah

حَيَّ عَلَى الصَّلَاة حَيَّ عَلَى الصَّلَاة

hayya alassalaah, hayya alassalaah

Hasten to the prayer, hasten to the prayer

حَيَّ عَلَى الْفَلَاح حَيَّ عَلَى الْفَلَاح

hayya alal falaah, hayya alal falaah

Hasten to success, hasten to success

اَللّٰهُ أَكْبَر اَللّٰهُ أَكْبَر

Allaahu Akbar, Allaahu Akbar

Allah is Most Great, Allah is Most Great

لَا إِلٰهَ إِلَّا اللّٰه

Laa-ilaaha illallaah

There is no god but Allah

After saying حَيَّ عَلَى الصَّلَاة حَيَّ عَلَى الصَّلَاة

hayya alassalaah, hayya alassalaah

Hasten to the prayer, hasten to the prayer

حَيَّ عَلَى الْفَلَاح حَيَّ عَلَى الْفَلَاح

hayya alal falaah, hayya alal falaah

Hasten to success, hasten to success

the mu'adh-dhin adds the following statement twice in the dawn prayer:

اَلصَّلَاةُ خَيْرٌ مِنَ النَّوْم

Assalaatu khayrum-minan nawm

The prayer is better than sleep

As the mu'adh-dhin calls the adhan, a Muslim should repeat after him whatever he says, except for these two statements:

حَيَّ عَلَى الصَّلَاة حَيَّ عَلَى الصَّلَاة

hayya alassalaah, hayya alassalaah

Hasten to the prayer, hasten to the prayer

حَيَّ عَلَى الْفَلَاح حَيَّ عَلَى الْفَلَاح

hayya alal falaah, hayya alal falaah

Hasten to success, hasten to success

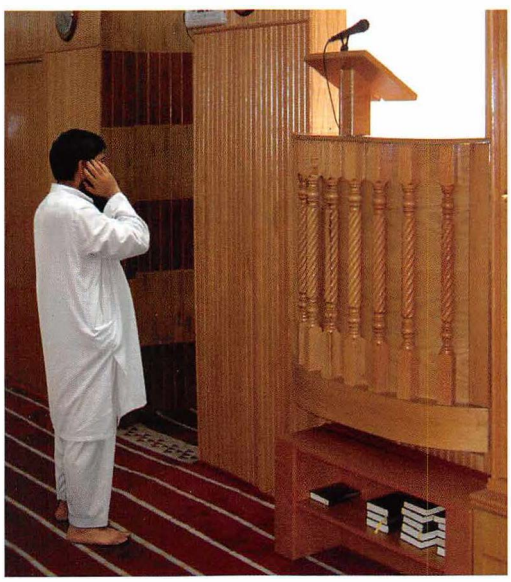

Instead, one should say after each one of these statements,

لَاحَوْلَ وَلَاقُوَّةَ إِلَّا بِاللّٰه

Laa hawla wa laa quwwata illaa billaah.

There is no power and no might except with Allah

Allah's Messenger (ﷺ) said, "When you hear the adhan, repeat what the mu'adh-dhin says". (Al-Bukhaaree and Muslim)

Al-Iqamah الْإِقَامَة

Al-iqamah is the call to the start of fard salah. A person praying alone may recite it quietly to himself or herself when they stand to offer any of the five daily prayers.

Al-iqamah is the message that the prayer is starting. One should now join the jamaa'ah and stand facing the qiblah to begin the prayer.

The wording of the iqamah is as follows:

اَللّٰهُ أَكْبَر اَللّٰهُ أَكْبَر

Allaahu Akbar, Allaahu Akbar

The tongue is one of the most useful parts of the body. We use it to express our needs, wants and ideas. But if we are not careful, we can easily use it in the wrong way. The tongue is a great blessing from Allah. Even though it is small, it is difficult to control.

A good Muslim must try hard to use his tongue only in matters that are pleasing to Allah. He must also try his best to avoid using it in such bad things as lying, gossiping and backbiting.

Gossiping and Backbiting

To gossip means to talk about other people's private lives which might be unkind or not true. This is perhaps the most difficult thing to control. It is easy to make fun of others. It is easy to nudge a friend with your elbow to get a giggle. But it is good to remember that if we do not have anything nice to say, then we should not say anything at all.

Our Prophet (ﷺ) once said, '(The true) Muslim is the one who avoids harming Muslims with his tongue and hands.' (Al-Bukharee and Muslim)

He also said, 'Do you know what backbiting is?' The Prophet's companions said, 'Allah and His Messenger know best.' Then he said, 'Backbiting is your talking about your brother in a manner that he does not like.' This means when he is not with you.

Telling Lies

For many people, lying is the quickest and safest way to get out of trouble. But in the long run lying always lands us into trouble – more trouble!

When you get caught lying, which you most likely will, you would be in much more trouble than you were when you started lying. No one likes to be lied to. Lying is lying! It does not matter if we lie about where we were, what we did, who we saw or what we saw; for we will be questioned about this on the Day of Judgement.

Lying is a very bad habit that attracts nothing but more lies. The more people ask you to talk, the more stories you make up. The more stories you make up, the deeper you land into trouble. We should, therefore, always speak the truth, and never lie.

Chapter 4

Salah (the prayer) is the second pillar of Islam. It is the foundation of the religion and the best act of obedience. There are five prayers which Allah has prescribed for His servants.

Allah's Messenger (ﷺ) said, 'If there is a river at the door of any one of you in which he washes himself five times a day, would any dirt remain on his body?' when his companions replied, 'None at all', the Prophet (ﷺ) said, 'That is like the five prayers by which Allah removes sins.' (Al-Bukhaaree)

After the affirmation of Allah's Oneness, no duty that Allah has prescribed for His servants is dearer to Him than performing the obligatory prayers.

Allah's Messenger (ﷺ) said, 'The merit of the congregational prayer - jamaa'ah - surpasses that of the individual prayer by twenty-seven degrees.' (Al-Bukhaaree and Muslim)

The Prophet (ﷺ) also said, 'To perform the late evening prayer (Isha) in congregation is equivalent to spending half the night in prayer, and to perform the dawn prayer (Fajr) in congregation is like spending the whole night in prayer.' (At-Tirmidhee)

Salah is so important in Islam that we are ordered to perform it whether we are travelling or not, and whether we are in a state of safety or danger. It is compulsory upon every sane, adult Muslim. None of the five daily prayers (salawaat – plural of salah) should be neglected. If someone is too ill to stand, then he should pray sitting. If he is too ill to sit, then he should pray lying down.

Exercises

Exercise 1

Fill in the blanks.

1. Salah is the _____ pillar of Islam.
2. A Muslim must pray _____ times a day.
3. The five prayers remove _____ just as water removes dirt.
4. The merit of the congregational prayer is _____ times more than the individual prayer.
5. Salah should not be neglected. If someone is too ill to stand, he should pray _____. If he is too ill to sit, he should pray _____.

Exercise 2

Answer the following questions.

1. What are the five prayers compared to?

Chapter 5

Zakah – The Purifying Dues اَلزَّكَاة

Zakah is the third pillar of Islam. The Qur'an mentions it immediately after the prayer, saying, 'And offer prayer and give zakah.' (73:20)

Zakah is an Arabic word. It is an amount of alms which must be paid by every Muslim who possesses a certain amount of wealth. The root meaning of the Arabic term suggests that it is a means of purification and growth. Hence Zakah means purifying dues. A person loves worldly goods and wealth because these are the means by which he can enjoy the benefits of this world. Because of these worldly goods, a person becomes so attached to life that he hates death.

Allah, therefore, puts Muslims to the test. He commands them to give up some of their wealth, which they love dearly.

Zakah is mentioned many times in the Qu'ran. It is compulsory upon those Muslims who have wealth, and is for the benefit of those who are poor or in need. It also cleanses and purifies the giver. It makes the person who gives it aware that he should not be selfish with what Allah has given him. Zakah also benefits the whole society. It makes stronger ties of brotherhood between the rich and the poor.

Allah's Messenger (ﷺ) said, "Whoever is given wealth by Allah and does not give the zakah due on it will find that on the Day of judgement it is made to appear to him as a hairless snake with two black specks, which chains him, and then seizes him by his jaw and says,' I'm your wealth, I'm your treasure."

(Al-Bukhaaree)

You will learn about zakah in detail later on, inshaa Allah.

Fasting (1)

اَلصِّيَام

Sawm, or siyyaam, is an Arabic word which means fasting. Fasting is compulsory for adult Muslims throughout the month of Ramadan. Ramadan is the ninth month in the Islamic calendar. It comes after Sha'ban. Fasting in the month of Ramadan is the fourth pillar of Islam.

Fasting means abstaining from food and drink and other things that make fasting invalid from dawn to sunset. If you abstain from something, usually something you want to do or have, you do not do it even if you like to do it or have it.

Fasting also means keeping one's ears, eyes, tongue, hands and feet – and all the other parts of the body – free from sin, free from disobeying Allah and free from harming others. Backbiting or telling lies spoils the fast. Fasting is like a shield. So when a Muslim is fasting he should not use foul or foolish talk. If someone attacks him, quarrels with him or insults him, he should say, 'I'm fasting, I'm fasting.'

The fast of Ramadan begins on the day following the sighting of the new moon of the month of Ramadan. If it is confirmed that the moon has been sighted, a Muslim should begin his fast from dawn the following day. He must make the intention of fasting (the niyyah) before dawn.

It is recommended for a Muslim to have a meal before dawn. This meal is called sahoor. It helps bear the hardships of fasting during the day. As soon as the sun has set, a Muslim should break his fast. This is called iftar – breaking the fast. He may break the fast with a few dates or other fruit, or simply with water! Fasting is compulsory in the month of Ramadan for every adult Muslim who is in good health, not travelling and able to fast without hardship. An adult is a mature, well-developed person.

Fasting (2)

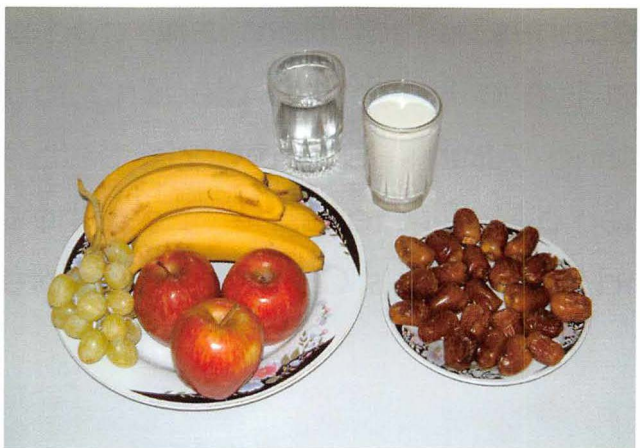

اَلصِّيَام

For one month every year, Muslims show their thankfulness to Allah in a special way: They fast during the month of Ramadan.

Fasting in this month is the fourth pillar of Islam. As the Islamic calendar follows the moon, the month of Ramadan falls at a different time each year.

There are several reasons for keeping this fast. The most important of them all is that it is the Command of Allah to do so. It is one of the pillars of Islam. It helps us become pious. It is the teaching of our Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ). Fasting reminds Muslims of the hardships of the poor.

During the whole month of Ramadan, Muslims do not eat or drink during the hours of daylight. This means they must get up before dawn, while it is still dark to have their meal called sahoor. From the moment of the breaking of dawn, Muslims can have neither food nor drink until sunset. Once the sun has set, they can break the fast, which is called iftar.

We Muslims often break our fast by eating a few dates. It is the way of Allah's Messenger (ﷺ).

It is during the month of Ramadan that Allah's Messenger (ﷺ) began to receive the words of the Glorious Qur'an. The Noble Qur'an is Allah's most precious gift to man. The month of Ramadan and fasting during it is the anniversary of the Glorious Qur'an. It is, therefore, the time of giving thanks. It is the time to thank Allah for all His gifts. It is the time to remember that man should rely on Allah for everything. Fasting teaches self-discipline. It makes us aware of Allah.

Islam teaches us that there is no god but Allah. A Muslim must live a life that is pleasing to Allah. That means putting Allah's Commands before his own desires. When a Muslim fasts, he obeys the Command of Allah and puts Allah's Command before his wants and needs.

Fasting is a shield against evil. It builds up the strength to resist evil that comes in the way of a Muslim. This helps him to say 'no' to the temptations in his everyday life.

Every night, when the fast is broken, the meal is like a celebration. Muslims thank Allah for giving them the power to keep the fast that day. There are people among the Muslims who are not expected to fast. Travellers and those who are sick do not have to fast. They should make up for the missed number of days when they are able to do so.

You will learn about fasting in detail later on, Inshaa Allah.

Hajj – The Pilgrimage

اَلْحَجّ

Hajj is the pilgrimage to the House of Allah – the Ka'bah – in Makkah. It is the fifth pillar of Islam. Hajj requires pilgrims to perform certain acts. These acts are the acts of hajj.

Hajj is compulsory for every adult, sane Muslim, male or female, once in his or her lifetime, provided:

1. He has enough money for the journey,
2. He is in good health,
3. The journey to Makkah is safe and does not involve any danger.

Children may go for hajj with their parents, but it is compulsory for them to perform hajj again when they become adults and are able to do so.

The acts of hajj are as follows:

1. Ihram: the formal intention of performing hajj. A man puts on two pieces of unsewn white cloth and does not cover his head, among other things. A woman should cover everything except for the face and hands.
2. Talbiyah (declaring of one's arrival for hajj).
3. Tawaf – going around the Ka'bah – seven times on arrival at Makkah.
4. Sa'ee – walking seven times back and forth between the two hillocks of Safa and Marwah.
5. Spending the night of 8th Dhul-Hijjah at Mina.
6. Staying in Arafah on 9th Dhul-Hijjah.
7. Spending the night of 9th Dhul-Hijjah at Muzdalifah.
8. Stoning the Jamratul Aqaba in Mina on the 10th of Dhul-Hijjah.
9. Sacrificing an animal in Mina (depending on the type of hajj one is performing).
10. Shaving the head or having a haircut.
11. Tawaf al–Ifadah: going round the Ka'bah seven times, and performing Sa'ee between Safa and Marwah, according to the type of hajj one is performing. You will learn about the types of hajj in detail later on, inshaa Allah.

12. Stoning the pillars in Mina, on the 11th, 12th and 13th Dhul-Hijjah. Stoning these pillars on the 13th Dhul-Hijjah is optional.
13. The Farewell Tawaf.

Allah's Messenger (ﷺ) said, 'He who makes a pilgrimage to the House – avoiding indecent and immoral behaviour – will return as pure from sins as the day he was born.' (Al-Bukharee)

He also said that a pilgrimage that is mabroor is better than this world and all it contains. There is no reward for such a pilgrimage but Paradise. (Al-Bukharee)

Mabroor means one that is done with the intention of seeking Allah's pleasure only and done in accordance with the Prophet's Sunnah.

Although visiting the Prophet's Mosque in Madinah is not an act of hajj, it is recommended to do so.

Allah is the Creator. When you look at the sky, the sun and the moon and the stars, whom do you think of? When you see the flowers, trees, birds and animals, whom do you think of? Who made the whole world?

Allah made the sun, the moon and the sky, and Allah made the first man. He called him Adam. Man is different from animals and plants in many ways. Animals and plants cannot think the way man thinks. They cannot talk, but Adam could do these things. The Qu'ran mentions Adam about twenty five times in different surahs.

The man Allah made had a body and a soul. Each of the people of the world has a body and a soul.

Allah created Adam from clay and breathed life into him. When our Lord said to the angels, 'I am putting a khaleefah on the earth,' the angels said, 'Why put on it one who will cause corruption and shed blood on it, while we glorify you with praise?' Allah said, 'I know what you do not know.'

Allah then taught Adam the names of all things. Then he asked the angels, 'Tell me the names of these if you are truthful?' They said, 'Glory be to You! We have no knowledge except what You have taught us. You are the All-knowing, the All-wise.'

Allah said, 'Adam, tell them their names.' And Adam told them their names. Allah then commanded the angels to prostrate to Adam. They prostrated but Iblees who was of the jinn did not prostrate. He refused, was arrogant and was one of the disbelievers.

Adam first lived in the Garden of Paradise with his wife Hawwa.

The Garden was very beautiful. Allah allowed Adam and his wife Hawwa to eat freely whatever and whenever they wished. But He forbade them to approach a particular tree in the Garden. He told them to keep away from this tree and warned them not to eat of it, or they would become wrongdoers.

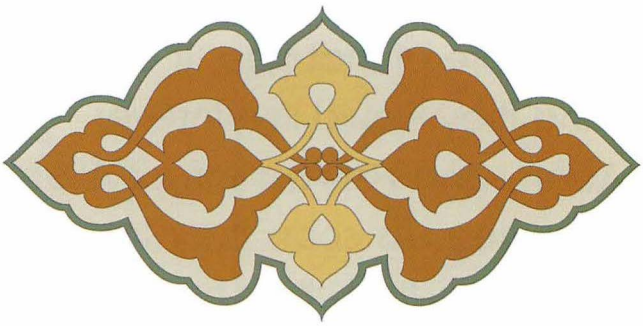

But shaytan made them slip by whispering evil thoughts into their hearts. He lied to them by telling them that if they ate of that tree, it would make them like angels, and they would live forever.

At last Adam and Hawwa forgot Allah's warning. They ate of the tree. As soon they tasted it, they felt ashamed and knew that they had done something wrong.

They were sorry for disobeying Allah. They prayed to Allah to forgive them, and He forgave them. But Allah commanded them to go to earth to live there for some time. He also promised that they and their children would be allowed to return to Paradise if they obeyed Allah.

Allah also made Adam a Prophet. He was the first Prophet. He worshipped Allah alone. He taught his children and grandchildren how to worship and obey Allah. He also taught his children and grandchildren how to be thankful to Allah.

Adam and Hawwa had many children and grandchildren. After the death of Adam (عليه السلام), Allah chose other Prophets from among the children of Prophet Adam (عليه السلام).

Exercises

Exercise 1

Circle the correct word.

1. Allah created Adam from (fire – clay).
2. (Angels – Iblees) did not bow to Adam (عليه السلام).
3. Allah (forgave – did not forgive) Adam and Hawwa.
4. Adam was the (last – first) prophet.
5. As soon as Adam and Hawwa ate of the tree, they (felt ashamed – became angels).
6. Iblees was (an angel – one of the jinn).

Exercise 2

Answer these questions.

1. How are plants and animals different from man?

Khadijah bint Khuwaylid خَدِيجَة رضي الله عنها

Khadijah (رضي الله عنها) was the daughter of Khuwaylid ibn (son of) Asad. She belonged to the Quraysh tribe.

Khadijah (رضي الله عنها) was the first wife of the Prophet (ﷺ). The Prophet (ﷺ) loved her very much. The wives of the Prophet are called 'Mothers of the Believers', and Khadijah was the first 'mother of the believers'.

The Prophet's marriage to Khadijah (رضي الله عنها) took place about fifteen years before the beginning of the revelation. He was then twenty-five and she was forty-years old. She was a rich widow and ran a large trade of her own. It was Khadijah who offered herself in marriage to the Prophet (ﷺ) when she asked him to do business for her and found out about his good qualities. She remained deeply devoted to him and gave him moral support throughout her life.

Khadijah (رضي الله عنها) had great wealth, a large house in Makkah and a number of maids. She was polite, affectionate and of noble character.

Khadijah bint Khuwaylid خَدِيجَة رضي الله عنها

The Prophet (ﷺ) once mentioned that the best of the women of her time was Maryam the mother of the Prophet Isa (عليه السلام), and the best of the women of her time was Khadijah (رضي الله عنها). (Al-Bukhaaree)

She was indeed a very worthy companion of the Last Prophet (ﷺ). He never thought of marrying another woman as long as she lived.

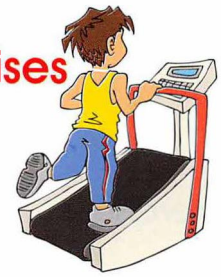

The marriage proved to be one of love and happiness. All the Prophet's sons and daughters, with the exception of Ibraaheem who died as a little boy, were the fruit of this marriage. Khadijah bore the Prophet (ﷺ) two sons: al-Qaasim and Abdullah who both died at a very early age.

She also bore him four daughters. They were:

1. Fatimah,
2. Ruqayyah,
3. Umm Kulthum, and
4. Zaynab.

Khadijah (رضي الله عنها) was the first woman to accept Islam.

A long time ago, in Babylon in Iraq, there lived a man called Azar. He was very popular. He was a seller of idols. He made idols with his own hands. He bowed down before these idols. He worshipped them.

Azar had a son called Ibraaheem. He was born in Babylon. He was very intelligent. Ibraaheem (عليه السلام) saw the people bowing down before idols. He was amazed. He knew idols were made of stone. They could not speak. They could not hear. They could not eat. He knew they could not help nor harm anybody. He saw flies sit on them. The idols could not send the flies away. Ibraaheem (عليه السلام) saw mice eat from the food which lay before the idols. The idols could not stop the mice from eating this food.

Ibraaheem (عليه السلام) wondered, 'Why do people worship idols? Why do people ask idols for help?'

Ibraaheem (عليه السلام) would ask his father, 'Why do you worship idols? Why do you bow down before them? The idols cannot speak. They cannot hear. They cannot help anyone. They cannot eat or drink. Why do you then put food and drink before them?'

Azar would become angry. He did not know what to say. He did not have any answers to these questions.

Ibraaheem (عليه السلام) gave the same advice to his people. They did not have any answers to his questions either. One day Ibraaheem (عليه السلام) went to the temple where idols were kept. He asked the idols, 'There is food and drink lying before you. Why don't you eat? Why don't you drink? Why are you all so silent? Why don't you speak?' The idols were silent. They were made of stones. Stones of course, do not speak.

Ibraaheem (عليه السلام) became angry. He grabbed an axe. He began to hit the idols with the axe. He smashed them all except the big one. Instead, he hung the axe around its neck.

When the people came to worship and bow down before their idols, they were dumbfounded and very angry. They could not believe what they saw.

'Who has done this to our gods?' they cried.
They had heard Ibraaheem (AS) talk about the idols. They brought him to the building and asked him, 'Are you the one who has done this to our gods?'
Ibraaheem (AS) pointed to the largest unbroken idol and calmly said, 'But this, their chief has done it. Ask him if he is able to speak.'

The people knew the idols were made of stones. They knew stones do not hear nor speak. They knew the largest idol was also made of stone. It could not move from its place. How could it break the other idols? The people were confused. They said, Ibraaheem, you know that idols cannot speak.' Now was the turn of Ibraaheem (عليه السلام). He asked them, 'How can you worship idols made of stone when they can neither help nor harm you? Why don't you understand?'

The people fell silent. They had no answer. But they met together. Ibraaheem (عليه السلام) had broken the idols. He had insulted their gods. They decided to punish him. They lit a huge fire and threw Ibraaheem (عليه السلام) into it. But Allah saved Ibraaheem (عليه السلام). He commanded the fire, 'Be coolness and safety upon Ibraaheem.' (21:69).' So it was!

The people saw that the fire did not harm Ibraaheem (عليه السلام). They saw that the flames and heat did not harm him at all. He was safe and sound.

Prophet Isma'eel (عليه السلام) إِسْمَاعِيل (عليه السلام)

Prophet Ibraaheem (عليه السلام) had two sons. Both of them became famous because Allah made them prophets. The first of them was Isma'eel, the sacrificed one. His mother's name was Haajar.

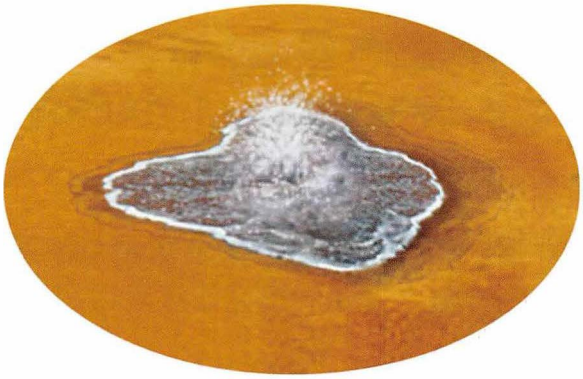

Isma'eel (عليه السلام) was the first son born to Prophet Ibraaheem (عليه السلام) in answer to his prayers. Ibraaheem (عليه السلام) prayed to Allah to give him a righteous child, and Allah gave him the good news of a forbearing boy.

It was Isma'eel (عليه السلام) whom Allah asked Ibraaheem (عليه السلام) to sacrifice. Ibraaheem and Isma'eel were both put to the test. This happened when Isma'eel (عليه السلام) was only thirteen years old. It was also Isma'eel (عليه السلام) who went with his parents, Ibraaheem and Haajar, while he was only an infant, to the valley known today as Makkah.

Ibraaheem (عليه السلام) left them there with only a small quantity of water and food. He put his trust in Allah to help and protect them. He left them under a tree at the place where Makkah stands today. Haajar sat in its shadow with the child on her lap. Around her there was nothing but sand and rocky slopes. How good the shade of the tree was!

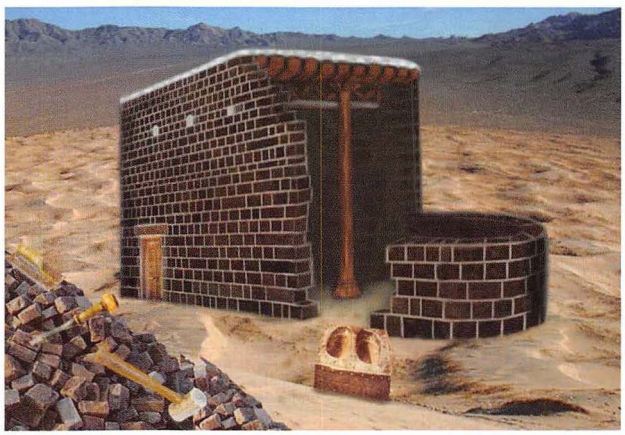

There was a horrible silence all around, without any living thing! No birds, no animals! The night passed, and another day, and another night.

When there was no more water left, the child began to cry. Haajar cried out to the Lord. Frightened by the suffering of her thirsty child, she ran to and fro through the valley, between the two hills of Safa and Marwah to see if she could see anybody.

While in this desperate situation, Angel Jibreel (عليه السلام) appeared and hit the earth with his heel. A stream of water gushed forth and began to flow over the sand. Haajar shouted with joy. She pressed the child's face into the cool water so that he might drink. She also drank with him. She heaped a little wall of sand around the spring. It became a well. This blessed well is known as the Well of Zamzam and exists to this day.

When Ibraaheem (عليه السلام) returned to the valley after some time, he found Haajar and Isma'eel alive, as Allah had promised him. Later, Prophet Ibraaheem (عليه السلام) built the Ka'bah with the help of Isma'eel. When Isma'eel grew up, Ibraaheem (عليه السلام) and Isma'eel (عليه السلام) were both put to another test. When Isma'eel (عليه السلام) was old enough to work with him, Ibraaheem (عليه السلام) said, 'My son, I saw in a dream that I must sacrifice you; what do you think about this?' Isma'eel (عليه السلام) answered, 'Do as you are ordered, father. Allah willing, you will find me firm.' Then when they had both submitted and Ibraaheem (عليه السلام) had laid Isma'eel (عليه السلام) face down on the ground, Allah called out to him, 'Ibraaheem, you have fulfilled the dream.'

Allah then commanded Ibraaheem to sacrifice a ram in his place.

We are very grateful to both Prophet Ibraaheem (عليه السلام) and Isma'eel (عليه السلام) for their noble example. Muslims all over the world sacrifice animals on the day of Eed al-Adha in memory of Ibraaheem's readiness to sacrifice Isma'eel to Allah to this day, and that will continue till the end of the world.

Prophet Ishaq عليه السلام

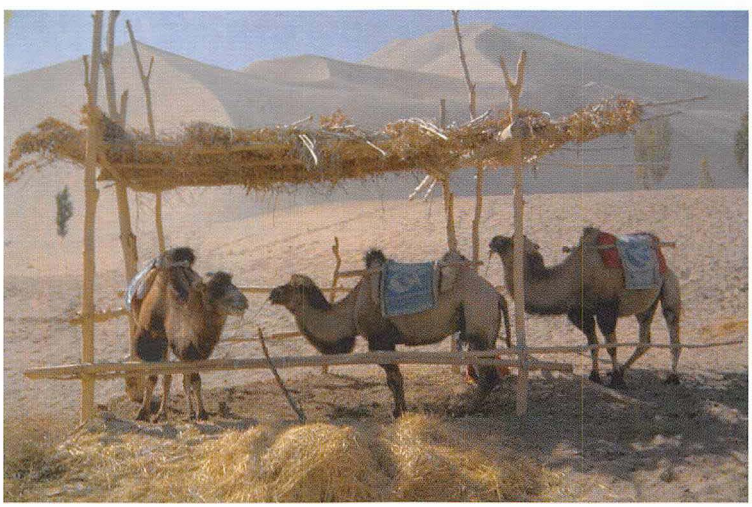

Prophet Ibraaheem (عليه السلام) had two sons. The eldest was Isma'eel whose mother was Haajar. Ishaq was his second son born of his other wife Sarah.

The Qur'an tells us in Surat Hud how the good news of the birth of Ishaq was given to Prophet Ibraaheem (عليه السلام).

Allah sent some angels to him to give him the good news of a birth in his family, because Prophet Ibraaheem (عليه السلام) had no children from his wife Sarah, and for this reason she felt sad. Both Ibraaheem (عليه السلام) and his wife Sarah had become old. There was no hope for them to have children. The angels gave the good news of the birth of Ishaq to Sarah and Ibraaheem (عليه السلام). They also gave them the good news of the birth of their grandson Ya'qub in their lives. Both Ishaq and Ya'qub became messengers of Allah of great standing.

These angels came to Prophet Ibraaheem (عليه السلام) in human form. He took them as normal guests. He brought a dish of roasted calf and placed it before them. Because they were angels and had no desire of eating and drinking, they did not spread their hands towards it.

Ibraaheem (عليه السلام) was a hundred years old when Ishaq was born. But when Isma'eel was born to him he was eighty seven-years old.

Pure Water

اَلْمَاءُ الطَّهُور

Water is a great gift from Allah. It is the essence of life. From water Allah made every living creature. Water preserves the body's moisture. Without it, there would be no life on earth.

Water helps in the digestion of food and helps cleanse the body of toxins.

The goodness and purity of water can usually be seen in three ways:

1. From its colour, which should be clear;
2. From its smell, that it should have no smell at all;
3. From its taste, that it should not be completely changed.

Pure Water

اَلْمَاءُ الطَّهُور

The water of Zamzam is without doubt the noblest of all kinds of water. It is the most pleasing to souls. It is the most valued by people.

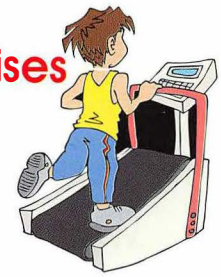

When a Muslim becomes ritually impure by breaking wind, for example, he cleanses himself with pure water. When he wishes to take a bath, he bathes himself with pure water. When his clothes become unclean, he washes them with pure water. When the floor becomes unclean, he washes it with pure water.

Rainwater, spring water, ice water and river water are different kinds of pure water. Water remains pure as long as its colour, taste or smell does not change.

A Muslim washes himself with pure water. He makes wudhu with pure water. He washes his clothes with pure water.

Urine is impure. If urine stains anything, it becomes impure. If your clothes are stained with urine, they are impure. A Muslim cannot offer salah if his clothes are impure. He has to make them pure by washing them.

Stool is also impure. Things stained with stool become impure. Water purifies the clothes and the body.

If a part of your body is stained with urine or stool, it becomes impure. Washing with water the part of the body stained with urine or stool makes it pure.

Remember, cleanliness is a part of faith.

Chapter

Tahaarah is an Arabic word. It means purity. Tahaarah in Islam means the state of cleanliness which a Muslim needs to be able to perform certain acts of worship. If a person has tahaarah, he becomes clean in his body and clothes. But keep in mind that the main purpose of tahaarah is cleanliness of the heart and mind.

The things which break tahaarah

If you are in a state of tahaarah, your tahaarah will break if any of the following things happen to you. They are called al-hadath al-asghar, or the minor defilement, and require wudhu to regain purity.

1. breaking wind
2. passing urine
3. passing stool
4. deep sleep

A Muslim cannot offer salah if he is not in a state of purity – tahaarah. Allah will not accept our salah if we offer it in a state of impurity.

Remember if any of the things mentioned above (al-hadath al-asghar) happens to anyone of us, we are not allowed to perform salah. We must regain the proper state of tahaarah. The tahaarah may be regained by making wudhu, tayammum or ghusl (a complete bath).

You will learn about these in detail later on, inshaa Allah.

If you relieve yourself or break wind, you become ritually impure.

If you relieve yourself, you should clean yourself well and then make wudhu before offering salah.

If you break wind, just make wudhu before you offer salah.

It is necessary to perform wudhu before offering salah. After making wudhu, a Muslim may offer his salah. Allah's Messenger (ﷺ) said, 'Allah does not accept the salah of any one of you who does not make wudhu after he becomes ritually impure.'

(Al-Bukhaaree and Muslim)

How to Perform Wudhu كَيْفِيَّةُ اَلْوُضُوء

Niyyah in Wudhu

In Islam, any good action, which is done without the correct intention will not be accepted by Allah. It is therefore very important that whatever we do, we should do it to please Allah. All our acts of worship should be done for Allah alone and according to the teachings of the Prophet (ﷺ).

Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) said that a person's prayer (salah) is not accepted without wudhu. So, before praying a Muslim must purify himself. A Muslim should also make sure that his clothes and the place where he wants to pray is clean.

Wudhu should be performed with pure water.

The way to perform wudhu:

1. Make the intention of purifying yourself for worship.
2. Start in the name of Allah by saying: بِسْمِ اللهِ Bismillaah (In the name of Allah).
3. Wash the right hand and the left hand three times. You should wash up to the wrists and between the fingers.
4. Rinse the mouth three times.

5. Sniff water into the nose and give it a gentle blow, three times.
6. Wash the face three times, from the hairline to the chin and from ear to ear.
7. Wash the right forearm up to the elbow including the hand three times. Then wash the left forearm up to the elbow including the hand three times.
8. Wet your hands and wipe the head once from the hairline to the neck and back again to the front.
9. Wipe the inside and outside parts of the ears, once.
10. Wash the feet starting with the right foot. Do this three times. Remember to rub between the toes and wash the heels and the ankles.
11. Now recite ash-Shahadah.

أَشْهَدُ أَن لَا إِلٰهَ إِلَّا اللّٰهُ وَحْدَهُ لَا شَرِيكَ لَهُ وَأَشْهَدُ أَنَّ مُحَمَّداً عَبْدُهُ وَرَسُولُه ash-hadu allaa ilaaha illallaahu wahdahu laa shareeka lahu wa ash-hadu anna muhammadan 'abduhu warasooluh.

I bear witness that there is no god worthy of worship except Allah, alone without any partners, and I bear witness that Muhammad is His servant and Messenger.

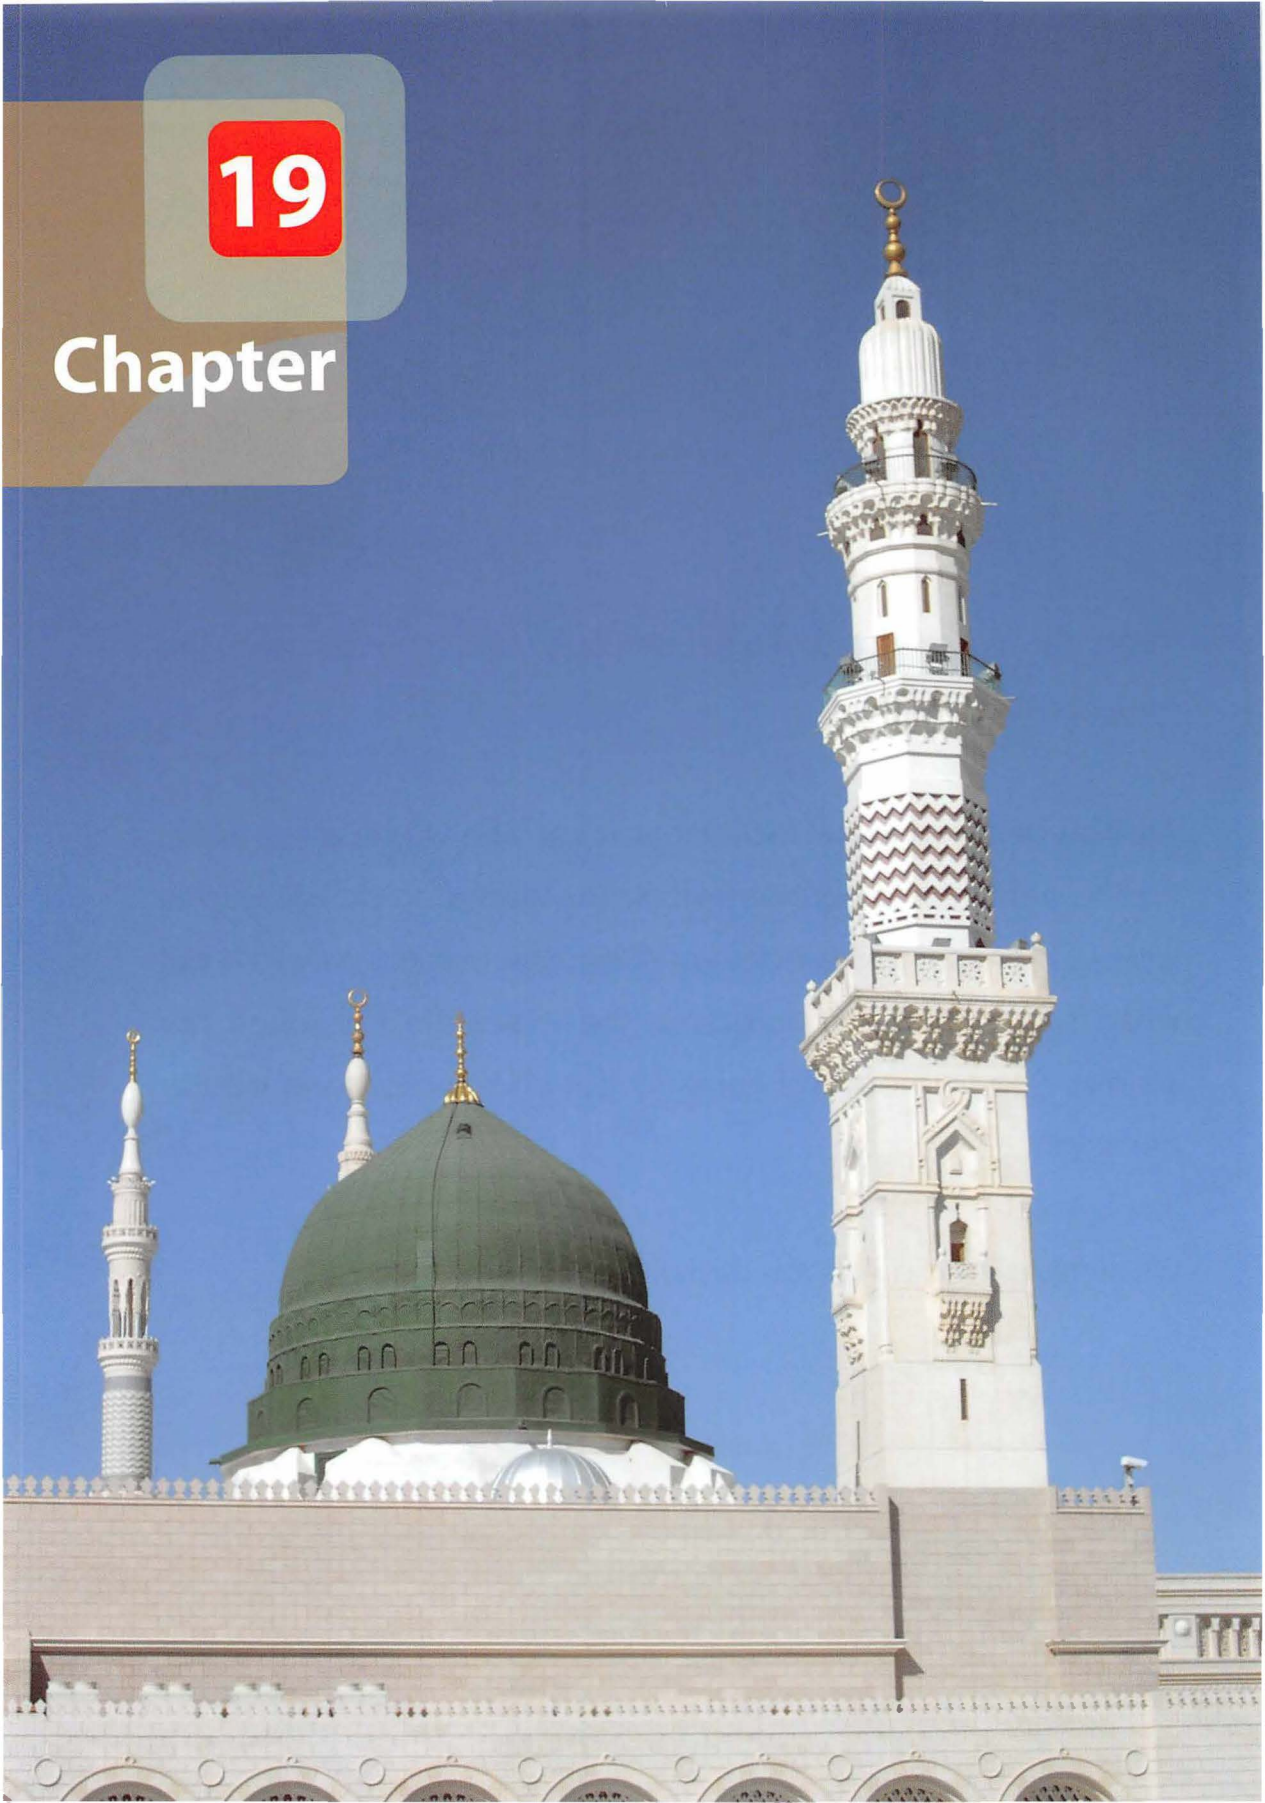

Exercise

Read the following passage carefully and then answer the question that follows.

Aminah decided to get ready for prayer. She was in a hurry and had to get back to her homework. She started to do her wudhu without mentioning the name of Allah. She carried on with it but when she washed her forearms, the water did not touch her elbows. She finished and hurriedly put on her scarf and began her salah.

What mistakes did Aminah make in her wudhu?

Supporter of the poor

Allah's Messenger (ﷺ) had become very popular in the whole of Arabia. Everyone respected and honoured him; his wisdom, honesty and trustworthiness were the talk of the country. He had no enemy throughout Arabia. He was a trader by profession. He spent his life in ease after his marriage with Khadijah (رضي الله عنها).

Once famine broke out, and there was a serious shortage of food in the country. Abu Talib had a big family to support. He was the head of the clan of Banu Hashim. He passed his days in want and poverty.

Having seen his bad condition, the Prophet (ﷺ) went to his uncle Al-Abbas ibn Abdul-Muttalib and told him about the famine and the difficulties that Abu Talib was facing. He further said that it would be better if they each took one of Abu Talib's sons under their care. Al-Abbas agreed and both of them went to Abu Talib and expressed their desire. Abu Talib happily agreed. So the Prophet (ﷺ) took Ali and Al-Abbas took Ja'far.

This happened in the same year the Ka'bah was rebuilt.

Khadijah (رضي الله عنها) had a nephew. His name was Hakeem ibn Haram. Hakeem had bought a slave and offered him to Khadijah (رضي الله عنها) and she offered him to the Prophet (ﷺ). It was this slave who was known as Zayd ibn Harithah.

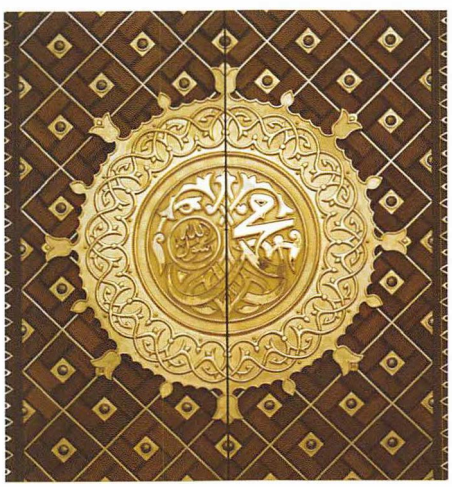

Before Islam, Zayd was taken during a raid and sold as a slave. When Zayd's father, Harithah, and his uncle Ka'b came to know that Zayd was living with the Prophet (ﷺ) in Makkah as his slave, both of them came to Makkah and requested the Prophet (ﷺ) to set Zayd free. The Prophet (ﷺ) accepted their request at once. He said that Zayd was free to go with them if he so desired.

Zayd was then called, and the Prophet (ﷺ) asked him, 'Do you know these two men?' Zayd replied, 'Yes! They are my father and uncle.' He then said, 'They have come to take you back with them. I give you permission to go with them.'

Zayd replied, 'I do not want to go with them.' Zayd's father scolded him and said, 'Do you prefer slavery to freedom?' Zayd replied, 'I have seen in Muhammad (ﷺ) such wonderful things that I can prefer no one in the entire world to him.'

Having heard Zayd's reply, the Prophet (ﷺ) got up, took Zayd with him and, entering the Ka'bah, said in a loud voice, 'O people! Be witness to it that today I set Zayd free and take him as my son.' This delighted both the father and uncle of Zayd and they went away, leaving their son in the company of the Prophet (ﷺ).

From that day on, the boy came to be called Zayd ibn Muhammad instead of Zayd ibn Harithah until Allah's Command came to the contrary. So he returned to the name Zayd ibn Harithah. But he still enjoyed the love, affection and the great company of the Prophet (ﷺ).

When Allah's Messenger (ﷺ) was 32 or 33 years of age, he started enjoying solitude. He felt a unique joy in this solitude. He naturally disliked idol worship. He never ate food offered to idols.

During this time, Allah's Messenger (ﷺ) would think deeply about Allah's powers and would glorify and praise Him. The more he was drawing near the age of forty, the more he loved solitude. He would often go to the Cave of Hira, taking with him food and water to pray to Allah in perfect peace and privacy. He would return when he ran short of supplies.

The Cave of Hira is in Mount An-Noor (Mount of Light), which is two miles away from Makkah towards the north on the way to Mina. The cave is four yards long and about three quarters of a yard wide. During those days he had true dreams.

Allah's Messenger (ﷺ) loved going into retreat. He was happy when he could be on his own. He used to walk away from Makkah until he was well out of sight of the houses. He usually went to the Cave of Hira. He would remain there for several days and nights in a row. He would take with him enough food and drink to last for that time. He would worship and pray in the manner of Prophet Ibraaheem (عليه السلام). He followed the pure human need to turn to Allah.

The Prophet (ﷺ) would be alone in the cave most of the time. Khadijah's servants would provide him with food and drink and other basic needs. She herself would visit him from time to time and would sometimes bring along his little daughters. His male children had all died when they were very young. The favourite time of the Prophet's staying in the Cave of Hira was the month of Ramadan. He would spend the whole month there in worship.

Allah's Messenger (ﷺ) was once alone in the Cave of Hira. He was forty years old. It was the month of Ramadan in the year 610 C.E.

Suddenly, Angel Jibreel (عليه السلام) appeared to him and said, 'Read!'

'I cannot read,' he answered.

Later, describing what had happened, he said, 'He seized me and squeezed me as hard as I could bear and then let go of me and said, "Read!"

I said, "I cannot read."

Then he squeezed me as hard as I could bear a second time and let go of me. Again he said, "Read!" Then he squeezed me a third time and let go of me and said,

بِسْمِ ٱللَّهِ ٱلرَّحْمَٰنِ ٱلرَّحِيمِ

ٱقْرَأْ بِٱسْمِ رَبِّكَ ٱلَّذِى خَلَقَ ﴿١﴾ خَلَقَ ٱلْإِنسَٰنَ مِنْ عَلَقٍ ﴿٢﴾ ٱقْرَأْ وَرَبُّكَ
ٱلْأَكْرَمُ ﴿٣﴾ ٱلَّذِى عَلَّمَ بِٱلْقَلَمِ ﴿٤﴾ عَلَّمَ ٱلْإِنسَٰنَ مَا لَمْ يَعْلَمْ ﴿٥﴾

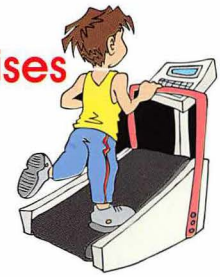

'read in the name of your Lord Who created. He created man from a blood clot. Read, and your Lord is the Most Generous, Who has taught by the pen; He has taught man that which he knew not.'" (96: 1-5)

This was the first day of his Prophethood, and these were the first verses of the Qur'an to be sent to the Messenger of Allah (ﷺ).

Having said this, the angel disappeared. Frightened, Allah's Messenger (ﷺ) went back home. He went to his wife Khadijah (رضي الله عنها) and said, 'Wrap me up!' Khadijah wrapped him up in a blanket. When he regained peace of mind after a short while, he told Khadijah (رضي الله عنها) about what had happened to him and said, 'I fear for my life.'

Chapter 23

Naturally, Allah's Messenger (ﷺ) was frightened by the experience. He did not know what was happening. He had never heard of anything like this taking place.

Khadijah (رضي الله عنها) was an intelligent noble lady. She had heard of Prophethood. She had heard about the Prophets and angels. She used to visit her cousin, Waraqah ibn Nawfal. Waraqah was a learned man who had read many books.

Khadijah (رضي الله عنها) knew the character of Allah's Messenger (ﷺ). She was his wife and was close to his thoughts. She was very well aware of his noble qualities. She felt that Allah's Messenger (ﷺ) had been given Allah's support. She said to the Prophet (ﷺ) with confidence, 'Allah will never disgrace you. You keep good relations with your relatives; you support the weak; you help the poor and the needy; you entertain guests, and you endure hardships in the path of truthfulness.'

Khadijah (رضي الله عنها) then decided to consult her cousin, the learned Waraqah ibn Nawfal. She took the Prophet (ﷺ) to see him. When Waraqah heard what the Prophet (ﷺ) had seen, he said, 'By the One in whose Hand my soul is, you are the Prophet of this nation. That was the same angel who was sent to Musa. I wish I could live up to the time when your people will drive you out.'

Allah's Messenger (عليه السلام) was surprised at what Waraqah had said. He was astonished about the Quraysh driving him out of Makkah, because he knew his own position among them. They all called him the Truthful and the Trustworthy.

He asked, 'Will the people drive me out?'

'Yes,' Waraqah answered, 'No man has ever brought anything like what you have brought without his people rejecting him and fighting him. I'm already old now. If I'm alive on that day, I will give you support.'

Afterwards, the Prophet (ﷺ) kept visiting the Cave of Hira. But no revelation came to him for some time. One day, while he was walking, he heard a voice from the sky. He looked up and saw the same angel who had visited him in the Cave of Hira. This time he was sitting on a chair between the earth and the sky. He got frightened and hurried back home. He asked his wife Khadijah (رضي الله عنها) to cover him. Then Allah revealed the following verses:

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَٰنِ الرَّحِيمِ

يَا أَيُّهَا الْمُدَّثِّرُ ﴿١﴾ قُمْ فَأَنذِرْ ﴿٢﴾ وَرَبَّكَ فَكَبِّرْ ﴿٣﴾ وَثِيَابَكَ فَطَهِّرْ ﴿٤﴾
وَالرُّجْزَ فَاهْجُرْ ﴿٥﴾

O you covered in garments, arise and warn; and glorify your Lord; and purify your clothing, and keep away from the idols." (74:1-5)

From then on, the revelation kept coming after short intervals. One day, Angel Jibreel (عليه السلام), the Trustworthy Spirit, took the Prophet (ﷺ) to the foot of a hill and performed wudhu before him. The Prophet (ﷺ) did the same. Afterwards, Jibreel (عليه السلام) led the Prophet (ﷺ) in prayer.
