Last term's holiday, i decided to go to the village to stay with my grandparents. This village is in Mubende. It is about sixty kilometers away from our home in Kampala.

In order to travel safely, i decided to board the earliest Kalita Bus to Mubende. I booked a travel ticket at shs. 10,000. At exactly 8:00am, the bus left Kampala for Mubende. Since i was travelling alone, i sat beside the conductor for any inquiries. When we had travelled for an hour, we reached Mityana Town. It was a very budy town and it had beautiful buildings. I suspected to have come to the end of my journey. "Please, conductor, Have I reached Mubende town?' I asked.

"Oh, no," said the conductor, "we have another one hour's drive, be patient." "I will tell you when we reach Mubende." We continued on our journey. After one hour, we reached Mubende Town. "There you are! Mubende," said the conductor. "You will cross the road to the taxi park and board a taxi to Matale village." Immediately i crossed the busy road, i saw my cousin village. I was very happy to travel safely.

It was my turn,
Thirty five years go,
When i struggled so hard,
To become a man
And make my parents happy.

It was my turn,
Come rain come sunshine,
To walk kilometers away to scool.
On pricking stones in the dark,
And make my parents happy.

It was my turn,
To bear the cruel teachers,
Who would cane and kick
Slap and box
To make my parents happy.

It's now your turn,
To shallow all the pain,
To strive and give in,
As i persevered those years,
To make me happy son.

CARING FOR ANIMALS

Animals are classified as domestic and wild. Domestic animals can also be called tame animals. The animals are not afraid of people and are used to them. Domestic animals are reared for meat, wool and eggs. However, some domestic animals are not kept for any of the above purposes. These animals are called pets. Pets are animals that are reared for pleasure. Examples of pets include; cats, dogs, parrots, e.t.c.

Whether tame or wild, animals are like human beings. They should be cared for since they have feelings. They can become anxious, sad, happy, tired, hungry, thirsty and sick.

A well –fed animal is a healthy animal. If it is a cow, it will give birth to healthy calves and produce plenty of milk.

In game parks and game reserves, wild animals are looked after well. This is because they are a source of income to the government through tourism.

When animals fall sick, one should send for a veterinarian. The vet will offer the right treatment and advice.

Because prevention is better than cure, a good farmer will ensure that animals are fed on a balanced diet, vaccinated and sprayed regularly.

Although our country Uganda, is a third-world growing, we can still do something in order to help REDUCE the increasing number of accidents on our roads. So many people have passed away in road accidents. It is time to reduce this terrible untimely danger which is spreading throughout Uganda like bush fire?

First of all, we have to know what causes road accidents. The main cause is the CARELESSNESS of drivers who drive their cars without following the road signs and regulations. These drivers should be tested properly before they are given driving permits. They should not be allowed to overload their vehicles or drink alcohol before driving.

Vehicles must be properly checked before they are driven. Spoilt or old ones should be removed from the road. Roads should be carefully constructed and widened to reduce the problem of traffic jam. Zebra crossings should be put in places where many people cross the road on foot. Enough road signs should be put along the roads to warn the driver of what to do. More still, traffic lights should be placed in cross-roads to control the traffic and maintain order.

In addition to that, the public must be taught how to use roads properly. This can be done on radio and television, through papers and at local meetings.

Finally, the traffic officers should not accept any bribes from wrong drivers, as this leads to more accidents. If we work as a team in this battle we shall reduce the number of road accidents in Uganda.

SECTION B (50 MARKS)

(Questions 51 – 55 carry ten marks each)

51. Read the passage below and then answer, in full sentences, the questions that follow

Any person who grew up in a rural area, cannot fail to remember the distressing things about village life. One imagines the long distance from home to the well. Another thinks about the thick forests and tall bushes where we gathered firewood. What about the day's hectic digging which was accompanied by coffee picking! These are just a few of the activities which a village child goes through.

However, one wonders how a village child manages to go to school and becomes successful. A child first of all has to wake up very early in the morning and fetch water from the well. Then, the child prepares to go to school. The only assured means to reach is on foot! The primary school is not near this child's home, so he has to run the longest part of the journey. At school, lunch is not provided. This means that he has to carry roast potatoes, boiled cassava or steamed yams and sugarcane. These would help this child not to stay hungry at school.

It was terrible on a rainy evening! This child does not have an umbrella and cannot wait for the rain to stop because he has to walk a long distance back home. Therefore, the only thing to do is to endure the rain. Many a time, the child reaches home with a wet uniform. The only uniform, which he has to dry overnight in order to make it ready for the next day.
He has to hang it up either in the kitchen or the main house. If he does not do this, then he will wear it wet.

Despite all these problems, the child remains focused on what the teacher teaches. He pays a lot of attention to the teacher and properly does all school work. He is aware that after his studies, he will get a job and all his troubles will be history.

Such a child grows up knowing that hard work pays. He also appreciates the value of going to school. He works hard to get good grades and join a good Secondary school. Most people who live happily in towns today grew up in villages and attended rural schools.

51. Read the passage below and answer the questions that follow in full sentences

Last term was one of the most enjoyasble terms in Gonkor Primary School. This is because we had a Sports day. Just like all other years. We have always had sports day in second term but this time, the sports day was one of the most unique as it had the guest of honour as Moses Kiprogasti, Uganda's gold medalist in the recently help olumpics.

The sports day started at around nine o'clock with Ogorogit, the sports master giving opening remarks and announcing the house that were to participate. These included Montessori House the reigning champion, Piaget House, Paubu House and Charles Dawins House. After the sports master's remarks, the competition began with the one hundred – metre race. Other activities like bottle filling, titanic race and the one by one hundred metre relay were done at the later stages of the day.

At dusk, the sports day came to an end sine all the points had been totaled and the guest of honour was called to give a bull to Charles Dawins House who had beaten the champion to become champions. He thanked them for managing to win the competition with a very big point margin.

1. Read the story below and answer in full sentence the questions that follow.

Everybody has what they like and what they don't like. This is part of human nature. However, we should put a limit to some of the things we like or don't like because the result sometimes is not good.

Most children enjoy eating and drinking sweet things. These may be good for then because they like them. Some of the sweet things are like cakes, sweets and sodas. These are called processed foods and they contain a lot of sugar which is not good for their health. When they go on taking too much of these processed foods, they develop diseases such as high blood pressure and diabetes. This is the same with adults who take a lot of alcohol.

Another thing people like to do is cigarette smoking. They smoke to pass time. However, this is not a good habit. Cigarette smoking affects the lungs and can lead to serious diseases such as cancer of the lungs.

On the other hand though, some people don't like bathing. This is a bad habit because it is unhygienic. When we don't bathe regularly, our bodies get skin diseases such as fungal diseases. So we should bathe daily to avoid such problems and keep clean. We all like people who are clean.

Therefore, we should learn to have a balanced diet and avoid processed foods, alcohol, smoking and get into the habit of taking regular baths.

Last term, the Primary Six class had a debate. it took place in the school main hall starting at 2:00p.m. on that Friday, all the pupils gathered in the main hail ready for the debate.

The chairperson, Hon. Nkudulu took his seat, the secretary, Hon. Kalanda also sat and the timekeeper. Next was the main speaker and as soon as they were ready, the debate began. The motion was "Man is the worst enemy of himself". The chairperson welcomed members and thanked them for keeping time and turning up in big numbers. After he had said all that, the national anthem was sung and next, he invited proposers to give their views.

Hon. Mbwiti took the floor first. He explained the motion and took his side argument. Among the views he raised was that man has made a lot of chemicals and machines in the inventions which in turn have claimed his life. He added that man has cut trees to a large extent hence causing drought and famine for himself. With all the above, he concluded that man is the worst enemy of himself.

After the proposer, was an opposer Hon. Ludo. She started by saying that the proposers had failed to interpret the motion. Man is not an enemy of himself. These proposers have failed to know that the motion is wrong. Actually, man had tried to improve himself through any opportunity. He has improved technology and worked so hard to change his environment. For example some places would not be accessible if man did not connect them using roads. Furthermore, man has set up Internet and telephones to make life better. How can one say that he is the worst enemy of himself?

It was a hot debate full of cheering and drumming, the chairman had challenges to control the house. Finally, the opposers won the debate according to the results from the secretary.

I AM A JOURNALIST.

I am a journalist for sure
Born with it but has no cure
And 1 like the way I do it
Though with the pain a bit
Ever as busy as a bee
But just because I want to be
The journalist they know.

Today, I’ll be in Uganda.
Tomorrow found in Rwanda
Surely must go to France
Sometimes for a dance
But all looking for news.
To be the journalist with views.

Wake up at dawn what a week!
I feel so sick!
Becoming very week!
Oh! Looking for news
Searching for facts
Having lunch in packets
If not in buckets.
I am a journalist
Who must change my life?
Before I get a wife
Because I work so hard
And life is always bad
Without the food I want
It makes my heart to pant
Yet, I am a journalist they know.

In the time-table of primary six in Matale Primary School, the last lesson on Friday is "Talk Time". During this period, pupils are given an opportunity to express their opinions. They do so by giving speeches about any topics they are interested in. Each speaker is given five minutes only.

One Friday, Katenta gave his speech. Below is what he said.

Friendship is very important to all of us. A good friend will always support you, no matter what happens. My best friend, Etyang, is like that I can tell him anything I want to, and he listens. When I am sad, he tells me funny stories that make me laugh. When I score a goal in football, he gets excited and he cheers. When I don't have I lunch, he shares his lunch with me, even though he is very hungry.

Although Etyang and I are best friend we sometimes have disagreements. Once we I did not speak to each other for a whole week. I felt very lonely. I am sure Etyang, too, felt very lonely. Finally we decided to forgive each other. We did not want to destroy our friendship. Now when we disagree, we try to stop before we can get angry.

The most important thing in friendship is to make each other happy. We can achieve I this by caring, sharing, helping, forgiving and praying together.

As soon as Katenta finished his speech, everyone stood up and clapped. It was a great I speech.

4. Read the poem below carefully and then answer, in full sentences, the questions that follow.

Bodaboda Rider!
Young and full of energy
I see you everywhere....
In towns and remotest of areas
Carrying passengers to get money.

Bodaboda Rider!
From dawn to midnight
Your motorcycle goes to and from
Carrying light and heavy loads
To destinations near and far!

Bodaboda Rider!
We appreciate your services,
But there is a very big problem:
We kindly request you
To follow traffic rules and regulations!

Bódaboda Rider!
You ride at a very high speed;
Overtaking other vehicles on the wrong side
Causing accidents daily

Questions.
